HISTORY OF THE PAUPER BOYS' SCHOOL.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS, 30 PEMBERTON SQUARE, BOSTON, Jan. 26, 1876.

The building in connection with the City Almshouse at Deer Island, designated as the "Pauper Boys' School," was erected during the financial year 1869–70, at an expense of $39,868. Previous to this date the pauper children had been domiciled in the main building of the House of Industry, at Deer Island. In the Annual Report for the year ending April 30th, 1867, the Board of Directors for Public Institutions referred to the condition of the pauper children in the following language: —

"We have for a long time felt dissatisfied with the accommodations for the pauper boys in the main building, but they were the best that it was possible to give them. The difficulty has been the impossibility of keeping these boys from association with the pauper men, as they from necessity have a common sitting and dining room. It was to be expected, and it was the fact, that the influence of the one on the other was anything but beneficial. The language and conversation of some of these men, whose irregular life has brought them to the Almshouse, are not calculated to encourage purity of thought and correctness of life in young boys, whose future character depends largely upon the influences which surround them. We therefore thought it our duty to make some other provision for them, and for this purpose have taken the old building formerly occupied for a dairy, and intend to thoroughly fit it up for their accommodation, so that in the future they may be a family by themselves, and free from all injurious influences. When this is completed, we think it will be found to be the greatest improvement which has been made upon the Island since the girls of the Reform School were placed in a building by themselves."

The boys were accordingly removed to the building which had been provided for them, and in the year 1868 the City Council, convinced of the practicability of the measure, granted a special appropriation for the erection of a brick building for the pauper girls. Upon its completion, however, as the number of boys was greatly in excess of that of the girls, it was thought best by the Board of Directors to transfer the boys to the new building, and place the girls in the building which had been fitted up for and occupied by the boys.

The following is an accurate and detailed description of the building, prepared by the architect who superintended its construction: —

"The building occupied by the pauper boys, although nominally a two-story building, has four finished stories, and a cellar. The main building is 78 feet long by 41 feet wide. From the centre of the easterly end projects a staircase 15 feet square, which connects with a boiler-house 32 feet by 41 feet, on the easterly side of which is a corridor 20 feet long by 8 feet wide, connecting with the building occupied by the pauper girls, making the whole length of the new building 143 feet. The lot on which the group stands lies between two streets, with a difference in level between them of about 16 feet; the ground sloping gradually from the higher down to the lower street, and from the westerly towards the easterly end of the group. The principal or entrance front is on the high street. The first or principal floor of the main building is about 6 feet above the ground at the westerly end, and is approached by a flight of stone steps and an entrance near each end of the building. At the easterly end the basement story is entered through the corridor from the upper side on a level with the ground, while on the lower side the ground is on a level with the boiler-room, which is on a level with the cellar floor, so there are entrances to the cellar, basement and first story above the ground outside of the buildings. On the upper side the main building shows two full stories in height, and a French roof or attic story; on the lower side three full stories and attic. The boiler-house is one story high on the upper side and two stories high on the lower side, with a hipped roof. The basement, first, second and attic stories are finished; the basement 10 feet high, the first, second and attic stories each 12 feet high. The cellar under the main building is 7 feet high. The lower story or cellar of the boiler-house is 9 feet high. The arrangement of the first or principal story, commencing at the westerly end of the main building, is an entrance with a vestibule opening into a hall 12 feet wide and extending across the full width of the building. A staircase communicates with the upper stories and with the basement. In this hall the boys deposit their hats before passing into the school-room, or up to the dormitories. From the hall two doorways lead to a school-room 28 feet by 38 feet, extending entirely across the building, and lighted on each side by three large windows fitted with inside blinds. Next adjoining this larger room is a smaller school-room 18 by 38 feet. The remaining portion of the story is appropriated to a parlor for the keeper's family, an entrance, vestibule, hall and large store closet. A door in the easterly end wall of the main building leads to the staircase before spoken of. The staircase at the easterly end leads up to a passage in the centre of the main building, on either side of which is a room 15 feet square. One is a matron's room, the other a bedroom for the keeper's family. Beyond these two rooms, and at the end of the passage, is a dormitory for the boys, 38 feet wide by 47 feet long, occupying the whole space over the school-rooms, and lighted by five windows on each side. The staircase at the westerly end occupies the middle portion of the end of the building, on either side of which is a small bed-room. In the attic story, at the westerly end, is the teacher's room and a store-room for clothing and bedding. The space over the large dormitory in the second story is divided into two rooms corresponding in width with the school-rooms in the first story; the larger room is used as a dormitory, the smaller room as a hospital. At the easterly end, over the keeper's rooms, are two rooms, one for the nurse, the other for an additional bedroom. Descending to the basement story, at the westerly end is an entry with a door leading to the yard and play-ground in the rear, and with a flight of stairs leading down to the cellar under the main building, which is used as a play-room in stormy weather. The entry opens into the staircase hall, which commuuicates with the stories above, and with a bath-room and lavatory under the large school-room, 16 feet by 28 feet, which is fitted up with seven iron bath-tubs, supplied with hot and cold water, and a wash-sink 24 feet long, back of which are the towel-racks. The remaining space under the school-room is used as a play-room at present, though designed for an additional dining-room whenever it may be required for that purpose. Under the smaller school-room is the boys' dining room, 18 feet by 38 feet, extending across the building and lighted from both sides. Opening from the dining-room is a large dish closet, back of which and in the front corner of the building is a large store-room. In the opposite rear corner is the officers' dining room, fifteen feet square. A passage in the centre of the building leads from the boys' dining-room, through the easterly staircase, boiler-house and corridor, to the building occupied by the girls, the first floor of which is on the same level as the basement floor of the new buildings. At the westerly end of the girls' building is the kitchen, in which, at present, is done the cooking for both branches of the establishment, although the upper floor of the boiler-house, which is on a level with the basement floor of the new building, is designed eventually to be used as a kitchen and laundry for both houses. On the lower floor of the boiler-house, on the side of the lower street, is the boiler-room, in which are two steam boilers, from which both buildings are warmed throughout. On the front or higher side is a large coal cellar, into which the coals are dumped from the level of the ground above. On the lower floor of the boiler-house, in one corner, are the house servants' privies, over which, on the upper floor, are the officers' privies, in all of which have been placed the 'Dry-Earth Closets,' which have thus far proved very satisfactory, as they obviate the foul smells which proceed from the ordinary vaults.

"The inequality in the surface of the ground around the buildings before alluded to has been taken advantage of, and has conduced greatly in rendering the varied accommodations and requirements convenient and easy of access. The whole has been planned with a view to rendering the institution as home-like and comfortable as possible without incurring the charge of extravagant and useless expenditure. Particular care was bestowed upon the arrangement of the principal rooms to be occupied by the children, that they should be light, airy, and well-ventilated, with plenty of sunlight in the dormitories and hospital. The principal school-room is not surpassed by any in the city for lightness, airiness, and ventilation. The finish of the rooms, as also of the whole building, is of hard and white pine, varnished directly on the wood. The doors, and portions of the finish around the doors, and the blinds to the windows, are of white pine; the wall lining and front finish around the doors and windows of yellow southern pine; the jambs of the doors are of white and yellow pine, mixed; the effect of which, in conjunction with the white-pine doors and yellow-pine finish and wall lining, is very beautiful, as well as neat and tidy. The varnish brings out beauties which are too often covered with paint and coarse imitations of the beauties underneath.

"The school-rooms, dormitories and hospital are warmed by hot and pure air, conveyed to the rooms through tin pipes leading from the steam apparatus located in the cellar. Each room has two registers for the admission of warm and pure air, and two ventiducts connecting with a ventilator cap on the roof, for the escape of the vitiated air. The smaller rooms at the ends of the building are warmed by direct radiation from the heating surface placed in the rooms, and ventilated by metallic ventilators set in the chimney-flues.

"The building is designed to accommodate one hundred boys, but provision has been made for an extension of the building, at the westerly end, whenever more accommodations are needed.

"The external walls and principal partitions of the whole are built of bricks. The underpinning is of split granite. A dressed granite belt at the height of the first floor marks the division between the upper and lower stories. The cornices are wholly of bricks with copper gutters. All of the roofs are slated with Virginia slates. All of the materials are first-rate in quality, and the work has been done in the most thorough manner; and although the buildings are simple in their outlines, and not showy in external details, yet from their commanding position and good proportions they produce a very good effect when seen from approaches to the Island and institutions. A considerable portion of the labor in the erection of the buildings has been performed by the inmates of the institutions, thereby saving a considerable expense to the city. The appropriation for the work was $40,000. The buildings have been finished and furnished within the appropriation.

"A thus full and detailed description of the buildings has been given, because those whose sympathies are enlisted in behalf of soldiers' orphaned children, as well as those of other unfortunates, have sometimes complained that such children are not properly housed and cared for; and that all having an interest in the matter may know that the city has made liberal provision for such, and that they are the objects of the tender care of the Directors for Public Institutions and of the Superintendent of the Institutions at the Island, and of those having the children directly under their care. The home now provided for these little unfortunates is more than comfortable, and is not surpassed, if it is equalled, by any similar institution in the country."

Previous to the erection of this building the following statute was enacted by the State Legislature, being Chapter 283, Acts of 1866, approved May 29, 1866:—

"CHAPTER 283.

"An Act concerning the care and education of neglected children.

"SECTION 1. Each of the several cities and towns in this commonwealth is hereby authorized and empowered to make all needful provisions and arrangements concerning children under sixteen years of age, who, by reason of the neglect, crime, drunkenness or other vices of parents, or from orphanage, are suffered to be growing up without salutary parental control and education, or in circumstances exposing them to lead idle and dissolute lives; and may also make all such by-laws and ordinances respecting such children, as shall be deemed most conducive to their welfare and the good order of such city or town; provided, that said by-laws and ordinances shall be approved by the supreme judicial court, or any two justices thereof, and shall not be repugnant to the laws of the commonwealth.

SECT. 2. The mayor and aldermen of cities and the selectmen of towns, availing themselves of the provisions of this act, shall severally appoint suitable persons to make complaints in case of violations of such ordinances or by-laws as may be adopted, who alone shall be authorized to make complaints under the authority of this act.

"SECT. 3. When it shall be proved to any judge of the superior court, or judge or justice of a municipal or police court, or to any trial justice, that any child under sixteen years of age, by reason of orphanage, or of the neglect, crime, drunkenness, or other vice of parents, is growing up without education or salutary control, and in circumstances exposing said child to an idle and dissolute life, any judge or justice aforesaid shall have power to order said child to such institution of instruction or other place that may be assigned for the purpose, as provided in this act, by the authorities of the city or town in which such child may reside, for such term of time as said judge or justice may deem expedient, not extending beyond the age of twenty-one years for males, or eighteen years for females, to be there kept, educated and cared for according to law.

"SECT. 4. Whenever it shall be satisfactorily proved that the parents of any child committed under the provisions of this act shall have reformed and are leading orderly and industrious lives, and are in a condition to exercise salutary parental control over their children, and to provide them with proper education and employment; or, whenever said parents being dead, any person may offer to make suitable provision for the care, nurture, and education of such child as will conduce to the public welfare, and will give satisfactory security for the performance of the same, then the directors, trustees, overseers, or other board having charge of the institution to which such child may be committed, may discharge said child to the parents or to the party making provision for the care of the child as aforesaid."

In conformity with this statute, the City Council of Boston, in June, 1870, by ordinance designated the House of Reformation for Juvenile Offenders as the place of detention for neglected children, and commitments were made to that institution accordingly.

"NEGLECTED CHILDREN.

"ORDINANCE.

"SECTION 1. The House of Employment and Reformation for Juvenile Offenders is hereby assigned and provided as the place to which children under sixteen years of age, living in the City of Boston, in the condition described in chapter two hundred and eighty-three of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, shall be sent by any of the judges of the Superior or Municipal Courts, upon the complaint of any of the officers appointed by the Mayor and Aldermen, under the second section of said chapter two hundred and eighty-three; and the Board of Directors for Public Institutions shall have and exercise the same control over the children sent to said institution as herein provided, that they have and exercise over children sentenced and committed under the provisions of chapter one hundred and eighty-two of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and twenty-five."

[Approved June 3, 1870.]

In the Fifteenth Annual Report made to the City Council, under date of May 24th, 1872, the Board of Directors thus allude to the commitment of the Neglected Children to the House of Reformation: —

"The building for the children of the Almshouse department, erected three years since, has proved very useful, and in every respect answers all expectations. In this connection the Board would recommend a change in the ordinance relating to 'Neglected Children.' Under the present law, these children, by reason of the crime, drunkenness, or vice of their parents, are committed to the House of Reformation for Juvenile Offenders, and are thus associated in the reformatory with those who are sentenced for their own misdeeds. It is suggested that the ordinance be modified so as to commit these children to the custody of the Board of Directors, to be placed in such of the institutions as in the discretion of the Board may be for their best interests."

In compliance with this recommendation of the Board, the City Council repealed the ordinance, and enacted the following, dated May 23, 1873: —

"NEGLECTED CHILDREN.

"ORDINANCE.

"SECTION 1. The Almshouse at Deer Island is hereby assigned and provided as the place to which children under sixteen years of age, living in the City of Boston, in the condition described in chapter two hundred and eighty-three of the acts of the year eighteeen hundred and sixty-six, may be sent by any of the judges of the Superior or Municipal Courts, upon the complaint of any of the officers appointed by the Mayor and Aldermen, under the second section of said chapter two hundred and eighty-three, and the Board of Directors for Public Institutions shall have and exercise the same control over the children sent to said institutions, as herein provided, that they may have and exercise over children sentenced and committed under the provisions of chapter one hundred and eighty-two of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and twenty-five.

"SECT. 2. The ordinance providing for the care and education of neglected children, passed the third day of June, A.D. 1870, is hereby repealed; the repeal to take effect upon the approval of this ordinance, by the Superior Court, or a justice thereof, as provided in the first section of chapter two hundred and eighty-three of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six."

[Approved by the Superior Court, May 23, 1873.]

The children who had been committed under the provisions of the former ordinance to the House of Reformation were accordingly transferred to the Pauper School.

The number of children in this school on the first day of January, 1876, was 151, classified as follows: —

PAUPER CHILDREN.

Boys, 61; Girls, 32; Total	93

NEGLECTED CHILDREN.

Boys, 53; Girls, 5; Total	58
	151

These are divided into three classes, for instruction in the ordinary English branches, under one male and two female teachers. The institution is under the charge of the Superintendent of the Institutions at Deer Island. The inmates are happy and contented, and their progress in education has been commendable and encouraging.

☞ The edition will be a limited one; early application is desirable.

THIS will contain about fifteen hundred articles, including sufficient material to illustrate almost the entire history of bookbinding, especially in its development as a branch of ornamental art. A gilt metal plaque of the twelfth century, bearing in relief a representation of the Deity, and studded with rock-crystals, is found on a fifteenth century MS. and is the oldest specimen in the Catalogue of work done in connection with bookbinding. Of the stamped leather bindings of the fifteenth century, there are not many examples, but some interesting volumes of that class, bound for Henry VIII, and a few impressed with more elaborate designs which were done in Belgium, exhibit the state of the art in the earlier years of the sixteenth century. The Venetian examples before 1500, several books bound in the house of Aldus Manutius between that time and 1520, a volume bound for Leo X at Rome, lead the way to the artistic productions in bookbinding which are connected with the names of Grolier and Maioli in Italy, Grolier, Francis I, Henri II, and Diane de Poitiers in France; Sir Thomas Wotton in England; Count Mansfeld and others in Flanders. This was the golden age of bookbinding, from 1520 to 1570. The next period, from 1570 to 1620, was remarkable for a new style, more akin to modern practice, but also distinguished by artistic beauty and connected with the names of Charles IX, Henri III, Catherina de Medici, J. A. Thuanus, la Reine Margot, and the Eve family of bookbinders in France; Queen Elizabeth, Archbishop Parker, James I in England; and with Ateliers in Venice and Lyons which tended to destroy individual excellence by producing admirable plates for the use of the bookbinder. The third period, from 1620 to 1670, is chiefly remarkable for the name of Le Gascon, who introduced the system of petits-fers, and the exquisite pointillé decoration which adorns a number of books bound in France, England, the Low Countries, and Italy. From 1670 to 1720 we find Boyer in France, and his imitators elsewhere. In Boyer's work, the art reached perfection in the compact solidity of the binding, and is

To Antiquaries and lovers of the Fine Arts the Book is indispensable; it connects the works of Winckelman and Cicognara, and forms with them a most interesting series.

"This fine work was the first in which the idea of exhibiting the Progress of Art, by a series of its noblest monuments, was perfectly carried out. By a series of accurate Engravings from celebrated Monuments, we trace the transitions of Art from the classic period to our own times. Sculpture, Painting, the Art of Illumination, and the Art of Engraving on Wood, on Gems, and on Medals are similarly represented.

"It is a work that has long been sought and prized by all who could afford the high price at which only it was to be procured. No Library, Architect, Painter, Sculptor, or any one connected with the Fine Arts, should be without such a work."

47 DE BRY. COLLECTIONES PEREGRINATIONUM in Indiam Occidentalem et in Indiam Orientalem, XXV partibus comprehensæ, a Theodoro, Joan. Theodoro de Bry, et a Math. Merian publicatæ, all the 25 parts and the Elenchus, a complete set of the First Edition of the Latin "Grands et Petits Voyages" (with two or three very slight exceptions which have been supplied from other editions, and which can be seen by a glance at the list of contents below), with some Parts of the SECOND AND THIRD EDITIONS, together 33 parts in 11 vols. folio and sm. folio, fine impressions of the numerous maps and plates, many being in duplicate, very fine copy in blue morocco extra, gilt edges, by Derome, from the Hamilton Palace library

Francofurti et Oppenheimii, De Bry et Merian, 1590-1634 850 0

In describing these copies of De Bry I have followed Lord Crawford's collation, the latest and only reliable authority.

CONTENTS:

GRANDS VOYAGES in Latin, the COMPLETE SET of 13 parts, many in two states, with the Elenchus:—

Elenchus. Original edition.

Part I. Genuine first edition, but with title-page of the second issue of this edition. The plates are, according to Lord Crawford, of the first and second issues of the first edition mixed, but this would seem to be the case with every copy.

Part 2. First edition.

Part 3. Genuine first edition; and third edition.

Part 4. Two issues: Genuine first edition, with the exception of the first title, which is of the second issue; and second issue.

Part 5. Two editions: First edition, but the text of the second edition; and second edition with the page of Preface containing the portrait of Columbus both of the first and second editions.

Part 6. First edition.

Part 7. First and Second editions.

Part 8. Two editions: First edition, with the two small maps not always found; and second edition, with the rare plate of Adam and Eve on page 58, marked "Jo. Theodore de Bry fe." This copy contains pages 129-160, which according to most bibliographers belongs to part IX.

Part 9. First edition; and second edition with pages 129-60 at the end.

Parts 10, 11, 12 and 13. These last four parts were only published once, and in much smaller numbers than the others. Consequently they are very rare, and are most valuable acquisitions.

PETITS VOYAGES in Latin, the complete set of 12 parts, some in two states:—

Part 1. Two editions: the first with the very rare Appendix, and a duplicate set of plates; and the second.

Part 2. First and Second editions. The plates to the First are in duplicate. In one of these sets the plates on the leaves marked VIII and XI are transposed, the texts being in their proper places.

Part 3. First edition, with the plates in duplicate. The map of Nova Zembla is not here on a separate leaf, but is engraved on the back of plate 58. In the duplicate set the back of this plate is blank. A map entitled "Delineatio cartæ trium navigationum per Batavos ad Septentrionalem plagam" (in Latin and German), has been inserted from the German edition.

Part 4. Sole edition.

Part 5. Sole edition, with a duplicate set of plates.

Part 6. Sole edition. Plate II is marked III, and has the text belonging to pl. III, while pl. III has the text of II.

Part 7. Sole edition, with the Swichard coat of arms on leaf of dedication. The plates are in duplicate. In one of the sets pls. 20 and 21 had been transposed; the right plates, however, have been pasted over them.

Part 8. Sole edition, with the plates in duplicate. Plate 13 is in two states, with and without letterpress on the back.

Part 9. Sole edition.

Part 10. First edition, with a duplicate set of plates.

Parts 11 and 12. Sole editions.

Only one edition was issued of Parts 4-9, 11 and 12 of the "Petits Voyages."

superior coloured copy, red morocco extra, gold borders, gilt edges, by Lewis 1830-48 100 0 0

This copy has been brought to a handy size by the reduction of the unnecessarily large margins: it is usually an unwieldy book.

This work in its magnificence recalls to mind the patronage of crowned heads, and the splendour of the princely patrons of literature. It is now out of print.

It is easy to find errors in this elaborate work, but it still remains an indispensable book of reference. The arrangement is chronological, but an alphabetical index is added. "Le supplement donne la description de près de 260 ouvrages ayant rapport à l'Amérique et qui avaient échappés aux recherches des bibliographes spéciaux. C'est un des plus beaux livres publiés de nos jours."

Printed at the private press of the King of Oude, after he had produced and circulated many copies of the Haft Kulzum. The Arabic-Persian Taj, like the Persian-Persian Haft Kulzum, was completed in seven volumes, but almost immediately perished, so that this is probably the first copy of it which has been offered for sale in Europe.—Sprenger.

"Nearly the whole of the edition of the Taj-al-Loghat has been destroyed," said Sprenger after examining the royal library at Lucknow and seeing the ravages that had been caused by the white ants.

203 SANDERUS. Antonii Sanderi Presbyteri Chorographia sacra Brabantiæ sive celebrium aliquot in ea provincia Ecclesiarum et Cœnobiorum Descriptio, etc. thick large folio, with many fine plates of views, etc. mounted on guards, fine large copy in old Dutch calf, with the Earl of Jersey's bookplate, EXCESSIVELY RARE 1656-95 20 0 0

Out of the ten or dozen copies of this book which are known no two are quite similar in their contents. The Earl of Crawford, who has been to great trouble and expense to acquire as complete a copy as possible, has printed an elaborate description of the book, compiled from all possible sources. (Collations and Notes, number I: Sanderi Brabantia.) The present exceptionally complete copy contains all described by his Lordship under the following numbers (excepting some cancels and such things as are mentioned below:—Nos. 2, 4, 6, 9, 13, 15, 17, 18, 21, 22, 25, 26, 29, 30, 33, 34, 37, 38, 39, 42, 43, 47, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 60, 94, 95, 98, 99, 100, 101, 122, 123, 124, and 125.

No. 25: this copy has not the plate (unknown to La Serna-Santander) occupying the inner page of sig. H. No. 53: this has not the first plate of the Abbey (unknown to La Serna or Vander Haeghen). No. 99: (1) the portrait not here; (2) the folding view of the "Parochia B. V. M. de Laca," is in duplicate here. No. 100: this copy has not the unfinished plate of the "Neapolis Montis Acuti" (unknown to Vander Haeghen), the finished plate No. (101) being pasted in its place. No. 124: this wants plates (a) and (b), the first of which Lord Crawford doubts belonging to the work, and neither of which are mentioned by La Serna or Vander Haeghen.

It must be remembered that Lord Crawford has described everything known to belong to the work, besides several doubtful pieces, that not one of the known copies contains everything mentioned by his lordship, and that only two or three examples of some of the pieces exist.

204 Sanderi Chorographia sacra Brabantiæ, etc. folio, all the plates and vignettes elaborately coloured, many of them also HEIGHTENED IN GOLD, very large copy in the original Dutch vellum, profusely gilt, gilt edges 1658-60 5 0 0

The following numbers of the above mentioned collation are contained in this copy: 2, 4, 6, 9, 13, 15, 17, 18, 21, 22, 25, 26, 29, 30, 33, 34, 37, 38, 39, 42, 50 and 51.

Number 25 HAS the plate occupying the inner pages of sig. H; and number 39 has sheet G in its original state, that is before it was cancelled and a reprinted leaf substituted.

In Lord Crawford's enumeration of all the known copies, and in the descriptions of the bibliographers, no mention is made of illuminated copies, from which we may conclude that the present is UNIQUE in its condition.

216 German. BIBLIA GERMANICA. Disz durchleuchtigist Werck der gantzen heyligen Geschrifft genant dy Bibel . . . . . hat hie ein Ende, stout folio, very beautifully painted in a large gothic letter, with 109 large, spirited and curious woodcuts, in a superior contemporary colouring, initial and capital letters rubricated, some of the margins waterstained, otherwise a fine healthy copy, in the original binding, with brass corners, re-backed Nürenberg, ANT. KOBURGER, 1483

This, the NINTH GERMAN BIBLE, is extremely curious, on account of its numerous grotesque woodcuts. Dr. Dibdin says, "The greater part of a rainy morning might be satisfactorily devoted to the entertainment afforded by the cuts of this Bible." Among others equally remarkable, is one in which the Pope is introduced as one of the principal of the FALLEN ANGELS! The same wood-blocks were used to illustrate the Cologne Bible, and the Bible of Halberstadt, 1522. See Goetz' ample description of this magnificent specimen of Koburger's press.

For a copious account of this curious Bible, see Dibdin's Bibliotheca Spenceriana, Vol. I, p. 54. Copies have fetched at sales from £10 to £15.

255 BLAKE (William) A Large Water-colour Drawing representing the Incantation-scene in "Macbeth," in a gilt frame, 14 inches by 12 About 1800 3 12 0

A hideous picture of three hideous women engaged in a hideous operation. Its genuineness is guaranteed by Mr. Muir the Blake-amateur and facsimilist, whose signature, as having catalogued the drawing, is written on the back of the frame.

256 BLAKE (William) THE HOSTS OF HEAVEN AND HELL mustering for battle—a design to illustrate Paradise Lost—painted on paper by William Blake; covered with glass and protected by a frame About 1800 4 4 0

One of the most characteristic drawings of the artist. The conception is grand and strange. Above the sun, the champions of Heaven advance in golden light, some of the foremost figures looming mistily across the sun's disk; while from below the earth and the moon, the dark warriors of hell, crowd upwards to attack the new planet, clothed in lurid raiment of deep blue or black or other sombre tints, touched with gleams of red.

257 BLAKE'S (William) Works, reproduced in facsimile from the original editions, square folio, hf. bd. scarce 1876 5 0 0

388 [THE GAME AND PLAY OF THE CHESS.] This booke conteyneth . iiii . traytees, The first traytee is of the Inuencion of this playe of the chesse . . . sm. folio, entirely in Caxton's first type; the first, sixth, and fourteenth leaf in facsimile, old calf of Queen Anne's time, in an olive morocco case s. n. (Bruges, 1474-75) 420 0 0

The most remarkable of all Caxton's books in consequence of the old tradition that this was the first book printed in England. That idea was erroneous, as it is now known that the volume was printed on the Continent. According to Mr. Blades and other authorities, it is the second book produced by Caxton, and was preceded by the Recuyell of Troy, which I bought at Lord Jersey's sale a few years ago, for £1820. The Troy book and the Game of Chess are undoubtedly the first two books printed in the English language, and the latter is perhaps the volume which induced Caxton to invent his device bearing the numerals 74. The last leaf of the book ends thus "Ffynysshid the last day of marche the yer of our lord god . or . thousand foure honderd and lxxiiii." Mr. Blades is inclined to think that this is the date of the writing, not of the printing; but it is at least equally likely that the completion of the printing is referred to.

An inscription on the last page, written about 1580, runs as follows—

Thoughe simple be the shew herof
To suttch as on it looke
Yett manne wurthey scentensis
Are wryttin in this booke I°R.

389 CAXTON, THE MYRROUR OF THE WORLDE, woodcuts, FIRST EDITION, 81 leaves (wants the first 7 leaves and 11 others), Emprynted by Caxton (1481)—Tullius, De Amicitia, translated into our maternall Englissh Tongue by the noble famous Erle, the Erle of Wurcestre, 23 leaves (wants a portion of C2 and C8, and the 4 last leaves), W. Caxton, 1481: 2 vols. in 1, sm. folio, bound in old calf (Westminster, 1481) 80 0 0

The Myrrour of the Worlde is the FIRST BOOK PRINTED IN ENGLAND WITH WOOD ENGRAVINGS. Mr. Blades enumerates fifteen copies, six of which are imperfect, and nearly all are in public or private libraries, which are not likely ever to be dispersed.

Both the works are printed in Caxton's 2* type.

Only two perfect copies are known, and not more than six or seven imperfect copies.

This copy consists of 195 leaves. The deficiencies are signatures a 1, m 4 and 5, o 1, p 1, s 1, t 8, v 1 and 8, x 1 and 4 and 5 and 8, z 8, bb 1, cc 3-8, dd 1-8, ee 1-4, and the table.

large and fine copy, in a binding of the late part of the seventeenth century (? 1484) 100 0 0

This copy consists of 203 leaves. The deficiencies are: a 1-8, b 1 and 3, i 8, s 5, y 8, dd 1-8, ee 1-4, and the table.

The Sunderland copy wanting one leaf fetched £226.

392 FROYSSART (Sir Johan) CRONYCLES OF ENGLANDE, FRAUNCE, SPAYNE, etc. translated by Lord Berners, 2 vols. folio, black letter, old red English morocco, gilt edges, with Lord Hardwicke's book-plate

R. Pynson, 1523-5 17 10 0

A good copy of the genuine Pynson edition: it wants title, preface, and table of contents to Vol. I and title to Vol. II.

393 THE PASTYME OF PEOPLE. The Cronycles of dyuers realmyes and most specyally of the realme of Englond breuely cōpylyd & empryntyd in chepesyde at the sygne of the mearemayd next to pollys gate. Cum priuilegio. folio, Gothic letter, with 18 curious full-page woodcuts of the Kings from William the Conqueror to Richard III, besides a number of smaller woodcuts of the earlier historical figures, and genealogical diagrams; some leaves stained and two missing, old calf, from Lord Hardwicke's library

John Rastell (1529) 100 0 0

The rarest and most curious of the English Chronicles, probably only four or five copies being now extant. The copy in the British Museum is, in the recently printed catalogue, stated to be the only perfect copy known. Consequently Lowndes' statement that the Hunterian library and Lord Spencer's also contained perfect copies, is incorrect. In Lord Hardwicke's copy the twenty-fifth leaf (E1) and the thirtieth (E6) are missing, but the series of large woodcuts which constitute the chief interest of the volume, is quite complete. These woodcuts are by far the largest works of the kind which had yet been executed in England,—perhaps indeed anywhere.

"It contains a strange account of the murder of Edward V and his brother. This book was printed only forty-six years after their supposed death, when there must have been many living who remembered them, and the more so as Rastell, the printer and publisher, was a man of learning and intimate with Sir T. More, whose sister he married."—MS. Note by Lord Hardwicke.

This charming little volume consists of 12 preliminary leaves for the Kalendar, and 255 leaves for the text. It contains no marks except the signatures, which, beginning with a on the first leaf of the Psalms, run up to ff. Each sheet is in eight, and there are three sheets between z and aa. The last sheet in this copy contains only seven leaves, the last, a blank, having been removed. A full page consists of 15 lines. The Gothic type in which the volume is printed is remarkably large and beautiful, and of a Venetian appearance.

578* ——— the same, Large Paper, royal 4to. bds. 1829 3 3 0

To identify the Buddhists and the Celts, to shew that all mythologies and religions merely degenerated from the pure worship instituted by those people, that the builders of Stonehenge spoke a language akin to Hebrew, and that the Greeks were ignorant boobies as compared with the Ancient Celts (Scythians, Etruscans, Phoenicians, or Buddhists, or whatever else he calls them);—such was the aim of Mr. Higgins. This ridiculous book struck terror to the heart of Orthodoxy—(an owl mistaking the donkey's bray for the lion's roar); but it yields many valuable items of collected information to the student of Archæology.

620 BURGO (Tho. de). Hibernia Dominicana sive Historia Provinciæ Hiberniæ, in qua nedum omnia, quæ ad memoratam attinent Provinciam, et cœnobia ejus tam intra quam extra Regnum Hiberniæ constituta (interjectis singulorum Fundatorum Genealogiis) exhibentur, sed etiam plura Regulares generatim sumptos Clerumque secularem et Res Civiles Hiberniæ atque etiam Magnæ Britanniæ spectantia, per P. Thomam de Burgo, cum Supplemento, 2 vols. sm. 4to. with map, in the original vellum, the Supplement unbound Colon. Agr. 1762-72 6 15 0

One of the most interesting volumes relating to the History of Ireland. The Supplement, comprising pp. 799-950, is of extreme rarity. Although the title bears the imprint of Cologne, it has been clearly ascertained that it was produced under the author's inspection, by a printer named Edmund Finn, at Kilkenny in Ireland.

In most copies of Burke's Hibernia Dominicana, five leaves, pp. 137-146 inclusively, are wanting, having been suppressed by authority: the above copy has those castrations, which are of very rare occurrence. They contain a sketch of James II's expulsion, and of the fortunes of his son and grandson, as well as a statement that the Prince of Orange ordered over 1000 wounded prisoners, taken at the Siege of Limerick, to be burnt alive.

626 O'Flaherty (Roderick) Ogygia: sive Rerum Hibernicarum Chronologia, sm. 4to. fine copy in calf 1685 0 18 0

The earlier annals naturally contain a large amount of rubbish, but, for all that, O'Flaherty's work is one of the most valuable and important ever written on the Antiquities of Ireland, and in the library of an Irish Collector or student it is simply indispensable. The learning and research of the author when treating upon matters within the true historic range, are universally acknowledged.

627 ULSTER Journal of Archæology, 9 vols. 4to. maps and a large number of fine plates and woodcuts Belfast, 1853-62 10 10 0

The Meeting of the British Association at Belfast, in 1852, gave rise to the publication of this Journal, which is devoted principally, but not exclusively, to the History and Antiquities of Ulster, the last province which held out against the English sway. It was, at an earlier period, the battle-field of the Irish Chieftains and the Scandinavian Sea-Kings. Other distinct races of men, from time to time, are recorded to have effected settlements in the district, whose lineal descendants yet remain. The mountains still preserve their ancient Cairns and Cromlechs of prehistoric times; the vallies their earthen tumuli; the peat-bogs daily give up their ancient treasures of gold, silver, and bronze, teaming with the most varied and remarkable memorials of successive phases of society.—Extract from Prospectus.

723 KING (HUMPHREY) HALFE-PENNY-WORTH OF WIT IN A PENY-WORTH OF PAPER, or the Hermites Tale. Third Impression (no earlier known), sm. 4to. T. Thorp, 1613 20 0 0

An excessively rare Poem preceded by some curious prefatory matter. This copy sold for £28 in the sale of G. L. Way.

Only two other copies are known to be extant: Mr. Huth's and the one in the British Museum.

In one of Nash's pieces dedicated to Humphrey King, he is described as the King of the Tobacconists. The references to contemporary matters throughout his Halfpenny-worth of Wit give it an historical value. It was written and perhaps printed as far back as 1597, but nothing has survived earlier than the above.

EXCESSIVELY RARE, and remarkable for the fresh, perfect, and excellent condition in which it furnishes us with a uniform copy of both parts of a Sarum Breviary complete; the Hiemalis volume especially being usually absent or defective.

There is no copy in the British Museum.

753 PSALTERIUM cū HYMNIS, 18mo. gothic letter, with painted capitals, etc. woodcuts, in the original stamped binding, rebacked, rare
Colonie per Martinum de Werdena, s. a. (circa 1495) 2 0 0

A very tiny Prayer Book, remarkable for its size and appearance. The body of type on each page is scarcely over 2¼ inches in height.

Macaronica:

769 ARENA (Antonius) . . ad suos Cōpagnones studiātes q. sunt de persona friātes bassas dāsas in gallāti stilo bisognatas . . 12mo. black letter, vellum Leone, 1535 2 2 0

Containing elaborate directions for the performance of many kinds of DANCES, written in Macaronic.

A rare edition, not mentioned by Brunet, but described in the Supplement.

770 ARENAS. Meygra Entrepriza Catoliqui Imperatoris Quādo de anno Dñi mille CCCCXXXVI veniebat per Prouensā bene corrossatus impostam prēdere Fransā cum villis de Prouensā propter grossas et menutas gētes reiohire per A: Arenam bastifausata. Sm. 4to. reprint of the 1537 edition, half morocco, uncut, top edge gilt Aix, 1860 0 7 6

771 MERLINUS COCAIUS. Opus Merlini Cocaii Poete Mantuani Macaronicorum, totū in pristinam formam per . . . Acquarium Lodolam optime redactū, in his infra notatis titulis diuisum. Zanitonella, . . . Phantasiæ Macaronicon, . . . Moschææ Facetus liber . . . Libellus Epistolarum, ē Epigrammatum, . . (etc.) . 18mo. with numerous full-page woodcuts, a fine clean copy, the marginal notes uninjured, old black Venetian morocco gilt Tusculani Apud Lacum Benacensem, Alexander Paganinus. M.D.XXI . . (1521) 9 9 0

A very rare edition, printed with Paganini's singular type between Roman and Italic. It is also the most complete edition, and is the princeps of all succeeding ones. Copies like the above, in which the marginal notes are not cut into, are seldom found. Though a few books were printed at Toscolano in the 15th century, Alessandro Paganini was the first to found a regular press there.

772 VIGONCE [Front of A:] Nobile Vigonce Opus, Incipit. Probably the most ancient Macaronic Poem with a date, Impressum Venetiis per Bernardinū Venetum de Vitalibus. M.CCCCCII. . . (1502)—VIRGILIANA (Fossa de Cremona Compositore) . . (s. l. & a., sed Venetiis, circa 1500), orange morocco extra, gilt edges, by C. Lewis 5 5 0

The former of these two pieces is excessively rare, and not mentioned by Delepierre in his Macaronea. Brunet says of it: "Cet opuscule macaronique est d'une grande rareté."

The second piece was probably also printed by Bernardinus de Vitalibus as its type greatly resembles that of the Vigonce. Brunet describes it as "un recueil de poésies satiriques et burlesques," and as "fort rare."

This volume sold for £19. 10*s* in the Libri sale.

773 ZANCLAII (P.) CITTADINVS MACCARRONICE METRIFICATVS . . 12mo. fine copy in brown morocco extra, gilt marbled edges, by Chambolle-Duru Messanæ, 1647 3 3 0

One of the rarest works in Macaronic Literature. M. Delepierre says that he was unable to see a copy.

786 AFFAYTATI (F.) Phisicæ ac Astronomicæ Considerationes, 18mo. blue morocco extra, gilt edges Venetiis, 1549 1 0 0

The extraordinary rarity of this curious work is attested by Lancetti in his Biografia Cremonese, who states that in all Italy there did not exist more than three copies, and that 30 Zecchini has been refused for its purchase. He also attributes to its publication the extraordinary death of the Author.

865 NASHE (Thomas) HAUE WITH YOU TO SAFFRON-WALDEN, or, Gabriell Harueys Hunt is vp. Containing a full Answere to the eldest sonne of the Halter-maker. Or, Nashe his Confutation of the sinfull Doctor . . . with a grotesque woodcut of Gabriel Harvey, 1596—THE APOLOGIE OF PIERCE PENNILESSE. Or Strange Newes, Of the intercepting certaine Letters, and a Conuoy of Verses . . . By Tho. Nashe Gentleman, 1593—[COPLEY (Anthony)] Wits, Fits, and Fancies: or, a generall and serious Collection, of the Sententious Speeches, Answers, Iests, and Behauiours, of all sortes of Estates, from the Throane to the Cottage . . 1614—3 vols. in 1, sm. 4to. hf. bd., from the Hardwicke library 1593-1614 30 0 0

All the three books in this volume are excessively rare. Nashe's two works in abuse of Gabriel Harvey are probably unmatched as specimens of scurrilous invective, abounding with conceits, and expressed with a marvellous command of language. Their references to contemporary writers and Elizabethan literature are of the highest interest.—Copley's Wits, Fits, and Fancies, is a book which in its earlier edition of 1595 had been much used by Shakespeare.

866 [NASH (Thomas)] Plaine Percevall the Peace-Maker of England. Sweetly indevoring with his blunt persuasions to botch up a Reconciliation between MAR-TON and Mar-tother . . . smallest 4to. red morocco gilt, gilt edges

988 REYNOLDS (Sir J.) Discourses delivered at the Royal Academy, for 1774, 1776, 1782, 1784, 1786, 1788, and 1790 ;—7 vols. 4to., FINE PAPER, sd. 1774-90 1 1 0

The first two vols. are presentation copies to Garrick. There are some MS. notes and corrections. On the vol. for 1784 occurs : "I purchased this Discourse as a literary curiosity, being perhaps the only genuine uncorrected production of Sir Joshua's pen. The inaccuracies are not a little remarkable considering the author has been esteemed a model of good writing,—but alas ! his friend Dr. Johnson was now dead."

See Preface to the Edition of 1880 of "Seven Lamps."
"The quite first edition, with the original plates, will always, I venture to say, bear a high price in the market; for its etchings were not only, every line of them, by my own hand, but bitten also by myself, with savage carelessness (I being then, as now, utterly scornful of all sorts of Art dependent on blotch, or burr, or any other 'process' than that of steady hand and true line): out of which disdain, nevertheless, some of the plates came into effects both right and good for their purpose, and will, as I say, be always hereafter valuable."—J. R. Copied by E. Langley.

1043 SAXTON (Christopher) Maps of England and Wales, sm. folio, portrait of Queen Elizabeth and 35 maps, ILLUMINATED IN GOLD AND COLOURS, hf. bd., RARE, Lord Hardwicke's copy 1579 63 0 0

This copy has the printed Index, folding plate of arms and Catalogus Urbium, List of the Maps and Judges' Circuits; also a MS. List of the Maps, illuminated in gold and colours.

The colouring, which is beautifully fresh, is superior to that of the generality of copies, being heightened or picked out with gold.

Christopher Saxton, an engraver during the reign of Queen Elizabeth, lived at Tingley near Leeds, Yorkshire, and was servant to Thomas Sekeford, Esq. Master of Requests, and of the Court of Wards. By the encouragement, and at the expense of this gentleman, Saxton undertook and published a complete set of maps of the counties of England and Wales, dedicated to the Queen, and adorned with the Royal Arms, and those of the promoter, Master Sekeford, published by Saxton in 1579; the dates on different plates extend from 1574 to 1579. Saxton is commended by Camden and Thoresby, the latter of whom calls his map of Yorkshire the best that ever was made of that county.

Folio, a large, complete, and entirely genuine copy (13¼ inches by 8 11/16) in the original calf binding 1623 420 0 0

"William Johnstoune his Booke" is the inscription of ownership, on the top of the page of dedication, and was written, as well as a number of notes in the same hand which appear throughout the volume, about the year 1625.—This is a copy of extraordinary value, such as I can never hope to see again; that is, entirely perfect and unsophisticated in its original condition. It has thus an infinite superiority over the very best of the fine and perfect copies hitherto known,—all of which were in modern bindings and had no doubt undergone the usual course of mixture of leaves and supplying of imperfections, which destroy the comfortable assurance of genuineness that we desiderate in all old books of more than ordinary value.

The binding was broken at the juncture of the sides and back, and this has simply been mended, without any removal of the parts. The last leaf was torn, so that a few letters of the name of "Smithweeke" were deficient in the colophon, but have now been supplied.—These are absolutely the only two instances in which the volume can be said to vary from its wholly genuine character of individuality.

One of the most carefully compiled of our County Histories.

"There is one peculiarity in Mr. Eyton's plan, which we have not met with in other similar books—it is restricted to the period between the Norman Conquest and the close of the thirteenth century. . . . . But we must not forget that this includes the most interesting as well as the most difficult part of our manorial history, and that if the field had been enlarged, it must have been laboured less elaborately."—*T. EDITIO PRINCEPS, and hitherto undescribed. The edition of Seville of the same year, described in great detail by Salvá, is a reprint of this of Toledo, which was quite unknown to him. In a preface by Blasco de Garay, it is insinuated that the translator was Diego Lopez de Ayala, and that the verses were the work of Diego de Salazar. The priority of this edition of Toledo is proved by the fact that both Lopez de Ayala and Blasco de Garay were both residents of that city.

Contains 40 unnumbered leaves, signed a-e in eights. (In the Seville reprint the last sheet has twelve leaves.)

1114 ——— the same, folio, LARGE PAPER, hf. red morocco extra, uncut, by Bedford 1851 1 16 0

Of this valuable collection of 576 Old Romances, only 500 copies were printed, and of these only fifty on large paper. The introduction comprises an essay on Castilian Poetry during the 14th and 15th centuries. The notes are historical, critical, and philological, and the work concludes with a glossary of obsolete words.

The dedication is to Philip II, which Brunet says was not reprinted in any edition after the first. He therefore did not know of this edition, but it is quoted in the Supplement to his Manuel. Salvá evidently never saw it, merely describing it on the authority of Gallardo (Vol. I, p. 220). Fetched, Payne and Foss, 1857, £3.; Bolton Corney, 1869, £12. The second part did not appear until 1578.

1285 ALLEINE (Joseph) Hyfforddwr Cyfarwydd i'r Nefoedd (Religious Discourses), in Welsh, 12mo. a few leaves cut into, hf. calf Llundain, 1693 — 1 1 0

1286 ANEURIN, Y Gododin, a poem on the Battle of Cattraeth, in Welsh and English, by the Rev. J. Williams, 8vo., cloth Llandovery, 1852 — 0 4 6

1287 BIBLE. Y BEIBL CYSSEGR-LAN. Sef yr hen Destament, a'r Newydd . . . Sm. folio, First Edition of the Bible in Welsh, translated by W. MORGAN, Bishop of Llandaff and St. Asaph, the title, the leaf of Table of Lessons, and the last leaf in facsimile, otherwise an unusually good and sound copy in red morocco extra, gilt edges, by Bedford Imprinted at London by the deputies of Christopher Barker, 1588 — 63 0 0

There are few persons who know how excessively rare this Bible is in any condition approaching to completeness. Such a copy as the present would be a great curiosity in any library in England or Wales.

1288 ——— the same, small folio, wanting all before leaf 11 and after 472, and 27 leaves besides; stained, a number of leaves defective; in the original oaken boards covered with leather (1588) — 2 10 0

The 27 missing leaves are the following:—181-6, 201-2; 205, 210, 229-34, 240, 247, 252, 259-60, 263-4, 271, 276, 309, and 327.

Imprinted at London by Henry Denham . . 1567 72 0 0

From the libraries successively of Bishop Thirlwall and the late Mr. Edward Breese.

The only known copy which contains four leaves of ERRATA, etc. These leaves are between the preliminaries and the text, and are in the same type as the rest of the book. They are marked with the signature (?). The heading of page 1 is "Y Beiæ y ddiangasant yn y print ac a ddleir ei correctio val hyn," and is followed by three pages of Welsh correction. The fourth page is headed "The Faults escaped in the Preface to the Quenes Maiestie." This is followed by three lines of English, and the remainder of the fourth page as well as the whole of the fifth is occupied by further Welsh corrections. The sixth and seventh pages are in Welsh, on the use of varieties of letters and on the value of the numerals. The eighth page is blank.

Perfect or imperfect, only a few copies of this work—the Editio Princeps of any part of Scriptures in Welsh—are now existent; those which are perfect and in good condition are amongst the greatest rarities which attract the book-collector.

1291 BIBLE. Testament Newydd, New Testament (and Psalms), in Welsh, thick 12mo. without pages 559-60 and the title to the Psalms, soiled and cropped in places, black leather gilt London, 1654 2 10 0

With autograph signatures of John, Peter, and Robert Salusbury upon the fly-leaves; dated from 1661 to 1732.

1292 BOOK of Common Prayer, in Welsh and English, 12mo. with MS. Note by Rev. D. Coleridge, half calf Rhydychen, 1840 0 2 0

1293 BRUT Y BRENINODD, sm. 4to. a MS. fragment, of 38 pp., in the handwriting of S. Vychan, Herald-Bard in the Reign of Henry VIII, calf gilt; valuable for various readings About 1540 2 10 0

As long as the mystery of Geoffrey's Chronicle is unsolved, so long will any fragments of the corresponding Welsh Chronicle retain their interest and attractiveness.

1294 BRYTHON (Y): Cylchgrawn Llenyddol Cymru, Cyfrol III, IV, V;—3 vols., roy. 8vo., in cloth and parts Tremadog, 1860-63 0 5 0

1295 [CARADOC of Llancarvan] The Historie of Cambria, now called Wales: written in the Brytish language above two hundreth yeares past: translated into English by H. Lhoyd . . . continued . . by Dauid Powel, sm. 4to. black letter, title mounted, large capital letters and arms, coloured and illuminated, ruled throughout with red lines, crimson velvet, gilt edges Rafe Newberie, 1584 5 5 0

1296 ——— the same History down to 1270, sm. 4to. plainly written MS. in a parchment wrapper 1573 5 0 0

This is probably in the handwriting of David Powell himself, and although agreeing tolerably with the printed text of 1584 in everything else, it varies considerably towards the end, in the history of Llewelyn's rule. There are several remarks on the perfidy of the English monarch and his son Edward (I) which were suppressed in the published book. It was given by Robert Powell to R. Montgomery (about 1590) as appears from a note near the beginning.

Simon Stafford, for Thomas Salisbury, 1604 5 5 0

Very rare. Collation: Title; leaf of Dedication; pp. 1-40, 49-67. Signature a begins with the leaf of dedication, and the last leaf of the book is the third leaf of sign. ħ. As these run in fours the number of leaves is therefore 31 (not 35 as it would seem from Lowndes, nor 34 as it would seem from the actual pagination).—The nine leaves of engraved genealogies are marked 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 70, 73; and were intended to count in the numeration.

Lewis Morganwg flourished in Henry VIIIth's time and acquired a great reputation among his countrymen. None of his poems have been printed except a few extracts in Jones' Welsh Bards, and a piece published by Iolo Morganwg. The above transcript was made about fifty years after his death, perhaps by "Edw. Davydd."

1319 MYVYRIAN (The) Archaiology of Wales, being a collection of Historical Documents from Ancient MSS. (by Owen Jones, edited by Williams and W. O. Pughe), new issue, thick roy. 8vo. hf. morocco neat, cloth sides Denbigh, 1861-70 2 2 0

To this edition have been added: more notes upon the "Gododin," and an English translation of the Laws of Howel the Good; also a chapter on Ancient British Music, by John Thomas.

The finest collection of old Welsh Poetry in existence. It is the source of almost all our information on the subject.

Romæ, in ædibus Populi Romani, apud Georgium Ferrarium, 1588 2 16 0

"On the reverse of the title is the order of the books, which terminates with the III Macabees. This is succeeded by an Address of Cardinal Caraffa to Pope Sixtus V; a Preface to the reader; and the Papal privilege and approbation. The Bible is printed in a fine large Roman letter, and Scholia, from ancient versions and the fathers, are appended to each chapter. The sources whence these are derived are distinguished as in the Greek edition of 1587, from which this translation has been made with great fidelity by Nobilius. It was executed under the auspices of Pope Sixtus V; and Nobilius, we learn from the preface of Morinus, was assisted in the labour by Antony Angellius, Lœlius, Valverda, and Peter Morin. This edition is rare, and highly esteemed."—Pettigrew's Bibl. Sussex.

Bradley's Dictionary of Miniaturists, Illuminators, Calligraphers and Copyists, in 3 vols. 8vo. Vol. II (Gaddi—Ny.), hf. morocco, complete, £2. 2*s* 1887-8

One more volume will complete this work, the first ever attempted on this difficult department of Palæography.

"This is the second instalment of a book which, when completed on the same scale, cannot fail to be valuable to a large number of students of art and of antiquaries interested in the minor arts and crafts indicated by the title."

"Mr. Bradley's entries are extremely numerous, far more so than the general reader would expect. A minority of them are rich in details, biographical, historical, and critical."

"His historical details have been compiled with zeal and discretion from all sorts of sources, French, German, Italian, and English; while his critical acumen and his technical knowledge combine to make him incredulous, or rather suspicious, of the dicta of writers of the eighteenth century, such as Montfaucon and Halm."—The Athenæum, July 28th, 1888.

"Mr. Fagan's compilation attests his industry and the ample resources to which he has had access in the British Museum, which is peculiarly well endowed with specimens of Faithorne. One of the best draughtsmen of his time, Faithorne left his work on the practical methods of his art in this country, and may be said to have secured, if he did not lay the foundation of, that great reputation which it enjoyed in the middle of the last and the earlier part of the present century."—The Athenæum, August 18th, 1888.

Burton's Arabian Nights: SIR RICHARD BURTON finds that he has material for a sixth (and final) volume to be entitled THE NEW ARABIAN NIGHTS OF CHAVIS AND GAZOTTE.

This tome will also contain, "The Reviewer Reviewed," Mr. W. F. KIRBY'S "Storiological" notes, and the various indexes of the six Supplementals. It will be issued at the same price as the other volumes, viz. £1. 1*s*

Only one thousand copies will be printed, a large proportion of which have been already subscribed.

Early application is requested to secure the volume.

China: GILES, STRANGE STORIES from a Chinese Studio, translated and annotated, 2 stout vols. post 8vo. gilt cloth, 15*s* 1880

These popular Stories are very little known in Europe; they give a good picture of Chinese Life, Manners, and Superstitions.

No. 19. King Richard the Second, by William Shakespeare, the third Quarto, 1608, facsimile, with Introduction by the Rev. W. A. Harrison 1888

No. 40. The troublesome Raigne of John, King of England, the first Quarto, 1591, which Shakespere rewrote (about 1595) as his "Life and Death of King John," part 1, 20 prel. ll. by Edward Rose 1888 unexcelled by any modern examples in the appropriate excellence of its ornamentation. With Boyer's work we have to associate the names of Colbert, Louis XIV, Prince Eugene, and other names of great lustre as book collectors. From 1710 to 1790, we have Du Seuil, Padeloup, the two Deromes, with whom may be mentioned Longepierre, Count Hoym, Madame de Pompadour, and a host of noble names in France. In England and Scotland some elaborately ornamental work was done between 1700 and 1740: from 1740 onwards the modern style was elaborated under the influence of Elliot and Chapman, Roger Payne, Hering, Lewis, Clarke, and others, culminating in Bedford. In France, the sudden declension of taste after 1790 is but dimly lighted by some specimens of Thouvenin and Simier till about 1830-40 when a new school arose distinguished by several names, the most illustrious of which is Trautz-Bauzonnet. Of living artists there are several in France; Zaehnsdorf in England endeavours to combine the practice of older styles with a fashion of his own in which English and French art are combined.

In this Catalogue will be found six examples of Henry VIII, two of James V of Scotland, one of Cardinal Bembo, one of Leo X, two of Maioli, eight of Grolier, one of the Cardinal de Bourbon, seven of Henri II and Diane, a Catherine and a Cosmo de Medici, three of Sir Thomas Wotton, one of Count Mansfeld, one of Cardinal Farnese, five of Canevari, one of Queen Elizabeth, several which belonged to James I, Henri IV, Charles I, Louis XIII, Charles II, Louis XIV, and an exquisite book bound for Catherine of Braganza. There are four Le Gascons, including two of the finest existing specimens; several of the beautiful lined Boyer bindings which have usually been assigned to Du Seuil; a considerable quantity of work by Padeloup and the Deromes, some of the books being authenticated with their tickets; several Roger Paynes; and a large number of volumes exhibiting the art as practised by the best men in France and England during the last fifty years.

The examples of German, Flemish, and Spanish binding are more curious and remarkable than numerous.
